1

What we do

We bring clean, family-friendly physical comedy to fairs, festivals, and public events. Performances happen throughout your grounds, engaging guests where they already are and creating spontaneous moments of laughter, connection, and delight.

Designed for open environments, our work supports the natural flow of your event without requiring a stage, seating, or technical setup.

Why it works

Physical comedy is instantly understandable and easy to enjoy. By relying on movement, timing, and human interaction rather than dialogue, the performance connects across ages, backgrounds, and cultures.

Families feel comfortable stopping, watching, and sharing the experience together — making it a safe, reliable choice for community events.

3

Experience you can trust

Our artists bring decades of professional experience performing at major festivals, theaters, and events across the U.S. and internationally. That experience shows up in work that is adaptable, professional, and easy to integrate into a wide range of event settings.

We approach every event with warmth, reliability, and respect for both audiences and organizers.
